

VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

Mike's FlexPath Journey Wrap Up00:01

[Music]

I really want to make a huge impact in terms of like nursing schools and the way you present information in the classroom but it was almost impossible without the right credentials, so now that I did it I have my Master's in Nursing Education, I'm able to make those impacts.

Mike Linares* - RN-to-MSN

Actual FlexPath student compensated for appearing in Capella promotional materials.*

00:17

[Mike's first steps with FlexPath]

So I started the RN-to-MSN program about three months ago which is going pretty smooth by the way and you can even choose your own deadlines for your assignments. Now this is all coupled with a full plate at simplenursing.com.

00:32

It's funny because I forget how hectic my life was before starting the program from work to traveling. I was about to go on a four-month trip to Asia from like the beaches in Thailand to Singapore to even Japan so during that time I got to complete my assessments in some pretty amazing places.

00:50

[Demystifying online learning with Mike]

I just got back from a trip where I traveled to Asia for about four months and to be honest if it wasn't for the app and it wasn't for the support at Capella I probably wouldn't be in the MSN program at all. I finally feel like I'm in control of my own studies.

01:03

One of the best things about the FlexPath is it doesn't feel like I missed out on life or that I was pushing off my work.

01:09

[Mike's FlexPath wrap up]

Now I'm super excited because I've completed all the coursework all my assessments all of my papers and it's really giving me insight on how to make a bigger impact for students.

01:17

[Mike's FlexPath wrap up]

To work in a college university they want to see that you have credentials. So now I can finally say that I have the credentials with my Master's in Education I'm able to make those impacts that I've always wanted to make.

[Music ends]